ROBLOX is built upon a custom system that includes its own scripting language and core programming languages. While it may not be true to say that all games on ROBLOX are made with ROBLOX's scripting language, this is true of the vast majority of games on the site. The scripting language is easy to learn, but more advanced scripting calls can be difficult to implement for users who do not know the syntax or do not have the time. This has led to many third-party solutions (modification of gameplay, ROBLOX engine modifications and others) being made by experienced users so that less experienced users can get a head start in the game development process.

I love Roblox, but sometimes it's hard to keep the game up and you seem to be forced to buy certain games. I think there should be a better way of getting new people in the game and not having so many bad games out there. Everyone is trying to make money off of Roblox, which is good, but I just wish that they could make more updates for the games and keep them working properly.

Games on ROBLOX have many different settings, including combat, customization settings, scenery design, etc. Several games that are featured on ROBLOX have different levels of rules, from the extremely basic "No Rules" or "Give and Take" settings to "No Kill" settings. The more difficult options create a more immersive experience for the players. For example, some games' settings can only be changed by the current owner, while other games have custom-made tools that allow players to modify it at will.[35]

Roblox is used for many educational purposes. For example, students can use it to practice basic coding skills such as the keyboard, the number keys, and how to move the characters on the screen. Teachers have also found it useful for teaching basic physics such as gravity and force. It's also used in STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering and Math) classes at elementary schools in which students have access to do robotics projects.
